"If you listen to the customers/fans, you can never go wrong. I make every decision the exact same way my dad did, and my grandfather did. It's all about listening to the people."

A MESSAGE TO LEADERSHIP

"When did it become so terrible to fail? We need to encourage people to take risks so they come up with ideas that change things."

"Ask your employees to write down the 3 values they believe best represents the company to your customers. You might be really proud of the results or may realize you have a lot of work ahead of you to establish your desired values."

"Every time your company does something wonderful, get the word out! Savor your successes!"
